MEET MOSAIC VOLUNTEERS

Sonia Jenner

I love volunteering at Mosaic. I am very grateful for the opportunity it gives me to share my knowledge. Because I have spent many years learning languages, I can understand the difficulties my students may encounter, and thanks to them, I keep my own knowledge up to date. Volunteering is not only about giving, as we receive more than we give.

Lynda Hutchinson

I started volunteering because I wanted to contribute to community. Volunteering has enriched my life with a strong sense of purpose and connection to people. It gives me great satisfaction teaching English and to see my student’s conversation skills improving, as I believe it helps them enjoy more fully their life in Australia.

Grace Lee

Volunteering at MOSAIC gives me the opportunity to share what I like with others. Although we speak different languages, dance has no boundaries. Together we enjoy dances, music and friendship. MOSAIC is a big friendly family that I am grateful to be a part of.

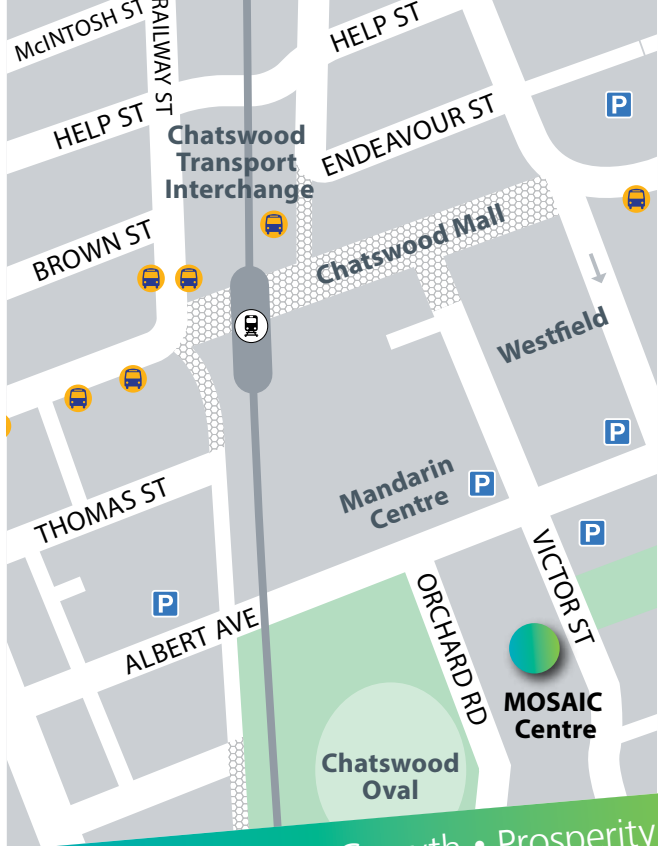

Mei Theam

My character-builder is Volunteering. Though this might sound exaggerated but is not far from the truth due to the many opportunities for learning and contributing just by volunteering! The ice-breaker which got me out of my shell was the day when I first started singing to the seniors with eyes looking away from many pairs of eyes staring at me! From that day onwards, my self-consciousness began to wane whilst my confidence improved. With things which I would love to try but would never dare to before, I can now face the challenge!
